Upon receipt, the College will submit this form to the Admissions Office to complete your application. You will not be accepted into the University until this form is complete.

This form lets the Admissions Office know that you are not required to audition on a musical instrument as part of your application to CU-Denver. It does not exempt students from taking Musicianship and Performance type courses as required in the curriculum. In addition, MIS students will be required to pass a Proficiency Audition, as required by our accreditation. Please see current advising sheet or Catalog for required courses for completion of the degree.

Students who plan to focus in the Music Technology (audio production) area, please note that this area is competitive. Please see the Catalog or a CAM advisor for more information.
